Macaw bird CYBORG

In a world increasingly more accustomed to incredible scientific advances, art continues to come up with new and unexpected realities, like in the Cyborg Collection. Half-animal half-machine, these creations are a product of the imagination and the idea of a world in which living beings and robots complement each other.

The forms of the striking rhinoceros and the unmistakable macaw, perfectly modeled in glazed white porcelain, take on a new meaning thanks to the decoration and ornamental work. Details in golden luster, black and bluish-grey enhance the figure, creating a very strong contrast. The geometric lines that define the structures of these animals are heightened by the detailed ornamentation work in relief which enriches the parts decorated in golden luster and manages to capture a robotic metallic effect.

These creations stand out not only for their futurist subject matter but also for the precision and quality of the execution in porcelain. Every detail has been carefully elaborated to ensure a work that combines the majesty of the animal kingdom with technological advances. A creation in which nature and science fiction go hand in hand.

With pieces like these, the Cyborg Collection offers ideas conceived for interiors off the beaten track that are looking for different visions and decorations. Porcelain reinvents itself, offering a unique combination of tradition and modernism, nature and technology.

UNDERWATER

This new creation joins the Underwater collection, inspired by nature and water, the primeval element that gave rise to all life. It is a demonstration of how art, through the unique expression of porcelain, connects us with nature and celebrates it. Thanks to our artists' consummate control of sculpture and the decorative techniques developed specifically for these pieces, Underwater offers us an unrivaled vision of the fusion between the animal kingdom and nature.

The perfection of the forms is further enhanced by a pioneering decoration in degraded bluish tones that achieves an almost real effect of immersion in water. The end result, as can be seen in this elephant, is a series of contemporary creations that not only embellish, but also captivate with their magnificent handcrafted elaboration in porcelain and with their message.

Elephant - Underwater is modeled in white matte porcelain, which highlights the texture of the animal's skin and anatomy. To achieve the water effect of the decoration, the degraded color is applied from bottom upwards and is rounded off with pearlescent lusters.

KOALA

Koala captures to perfection the Boldblack collection's unique mix of naturalism and leading-edge. The series offers a singular vision of the animal kingdom in creations notable for matching realist and precise modeling with a bicolor black-and-gold decoration. With an unmistakable creative treatment, these designs fit in with the most varied interior styles.

Koala portrays one of the world's most endearing animals from a surprising new angle. The creation combines the expressiveness and detail of refined sculpture with a highly sophisticated decoration. The matte black porcelain enhances every little detail and contrasts with the golden luster to create a very attractive decorative effect.

The koala is deeply significant for Australia's first nations peoples, who believe it to be a symbol of wisdom and adaptation. In their legends it is often depicted as a being with profound insight into its environment and with a heightened sense of community. It is also a totem of conservation and respect for the environment, now turned into an innovative decorative and artistic creation.

LION

UNBREAKABLE SPIRIT SCENT

The Lion perfume diffuser brings functionality and scents to Origami, a collection inspired by the traditional Japanese art in which geometric forms produced by folding paper become facets with incredible sculptural and decorative potential. The matte black finish of this handcrafted porcelain design reinforces the intensity of the powerful shape of the lion's head.

The diffuser comprises the sculpture and a glass bottle with 200 ml of the Unbreakable Spirit perfume, a fragrance with notes of bergamot, cardamom and musk. In addition, it comes with a glass tube to hold the perfume, and five black wood diffuser reeds.

Lion diffuser is a decorative object, an innovate and attractive design, a functional piece and an evocative, suggestive creation. It is both form and aroma, a symbol of the strength of nature that will fill your home with inspiration and energy.

The Guest by
JADE PURPLE BROWN

Jade Purple Brown is the latest artist to join the list of renowned designers to offer their personal vision of the iconic The Guest. Since it was first created by Jaime Hayon, The Guest has gone on to become a character with a thousand faces, interpreted by a number of internationally famous contemporary creatives.

Jade Purple Brown, a talented New York-based artist and illustrator, joins this big family with the first female The Guest. Her style, characterized by imagery that places women at the very center and with a vibrant aesthetic that casts a knowing nod at Pop art, is clearly reflected in these two designs.

The Guest by Jade Purple Brown - Big is a powerful, dynamic design full of color and force that speaks of empowerment and raising awareness. It aspires to be a form of activism that defies stereotypes and makes the most of the power of design to give women a voice. A hymn to sisterhood in the form of a limited edition of 300 units.

The designer has intervened on Lladró porcelain with a palette of saturated tones that convey energy and optimism. The design boasts spontaneous and expressive lines full of rhythm, clearly influenced by Pop art. In the center of the piece are two faces in profile facing each other, about to kiss. A symbol of love and of sorority. The butterfly is another female symbol that appears several times, in the glasses, the lips and on the back of the head. An inspirational tribute to the power of women, it depicts them as courageous, determined and overflowing with joy and happiness.

Like its bigger sister, The Guest by Jade Purple Brown - Little is also a creation inspired by women's power. Produced in a numbered edition, its coloring and design reflect Jade's fascination for the 1960s and 70s. The motif of the butterfly spreading its wings is the centerpiece of a design dominated by warm tones that contrast with forceful black brushstrokes. An explosion of color and psychedelia, of passion and joie de vivre.

LLADRÓ ART EDITIONS

BY
JAVIER CALLEJA

You Choose One, the sculptural work created by the renowned Spanish artist Javier Calleja for Lladró Art Editions, continues with a new limited-edition of 1500 units, focused now on one of its three characters: Devil Cat.

Little Devil Cat is a work with which Calleja makes us think about the voice of conscience, about that "Jiminy Cricket" and, on this occasion, about the little devil we all have inside us.

With a cat's body, bat wings, little horns, and a pointed tail, more than scaring the life out of us, we will probably want to take this little devil home. His yellow glass eyes give him a highly personal character while the handcrafted elaboration makes each cat unique.

Little Devil Cat is painted with a warm black with a gloss finish, a color created specifically for Javier Calleja and our in-house team of decoration artists who have achieved the desired tone by developing a reddish black using a special formula.

The apparent outer simplicity of Little Devil Cat hides a highly complex process of reproduction in porcelain. The large size of the head and the structure of the wings posed a significant technical challenge, especially during the firing in the kiln where, like all Lladró creations, the piece undergoes a reduction of about 15% in size. To ensure that this reduction is successful and that the piece maintains its proportions calls for meticulous prior research and experimentation and consummate control over porcelain.

The result is a unique work of art signed by one of the world's most sought-after contemporary artists. No matter how devilish he may be, or perhaps precisely because of it, you are bound to fall in love with this little imp.

“SOMETIMES
THERE IS NOTHING

IN MY WORKS,

Javier Calleja

Another noteworthy feature of this collection is the packaging. On one hand, because, like all Lladró creations, it has been designed specifically considering the special characteristics of the piece, to guarantee that it arrives in perfect conditions from Valencia (Spain), home to the brand's only factory, to any destination in the world. On the other, the graphic design of the box is in the same black tone as the piece and has a pair of expressive eyes that keep a close watch on everything around them. And, finally, because each box includes a special certificate signed by the artist.

Javier Calleja, the inaugural artist of Art Editions platform, is a Spanish figurative creator born in Malaga, where he lives and works. After studying Fine Art at the University of Granada, he started developing his distinctive artistic style, notable for his instantly recognizable characters with big eyes and exaggerated features which capture the spectator's attention. Often accompanied with symbolic elements and introspective phrases, these characters invite us to enter a world suffused with emotiveness. Since his beginnings, Calleja has managed to captivate the public with his unique vision and his ability to transmit universal emotions through his artistic creations. Javier Calleja is currently represented by the Nanzuka Underground, Aishonanzuka and Almine Rech galleries.

TWEETY

Tweety is one of the funniest and friendliest characters in pop culture, instantly recognizable for his huge eyes, his lively expression and his bright yellow color.

This handcrafted porcelain creation depicts him faithfully and is as cute and irresistible as Tweety himself. It is decorated in yellow combined with touches of matte and glazed golden luster applied in the iris of his eyes, eyelashes and legs. It rests on a wavy base also handmade in black matte porcelain.

Tweety shot to fame right from his very first appearance in the 1940s, in the Warner Bros. Looney Tunes series of animated cartoons. In his adventures Sylvester the cat spends his time chasing Tweety, but never manages to catch him. Despite his cute innocence appearance and his signature catchphrase: "I tawt I taw a puddy tat!", Tweety is actually a cunning little canary who always escapes Sylvester's clutches.

A true icon of animated cartoons, Tweety is unmistakable and charismatic, and continues to charm people of all ages, generation after generation.

BATMAN

Coinciding with his 85th birthday, and in collaboration with Warner Bros-Discovery Global Consumer Products, we are unveiling Batman™ x Lladró, a portrait in porcelain of the legendary superhero in a limited edition of just 500 units.

The mythical caped crusader, created by the US publishers Detective Comics in 1939, is the focus of this handcrafted porcelain creation which recreates Gotham City's iconic avenger in minute detail.

The Dark Knight is the alter ego of the multi-millionaire Bruce Wayne and took his inspiration from bats to create his famous disguise. He wears a cape imitating bat wings, a mask, the bat symbol on his chest and sophisticated gadgets, like his famous utility belt.

Similar to the rest of our creations, Batman™ is made following an entirely handcrafted process involving our most expert artists. This version in black matte porcelain stands out for the precision of the sculptural work and the decoration combining glazed and matte finishes in jet black, touches of golden luster and stone-gray brushstrokes.

Batman™ captures the dynamism of the character, with his cape blowing in the wind as he perches on one of the iconic gargoyles of the roofs of Gotham City. Ready to jump into action in defense of justice.

HAN SOLO

We are completing our Star Wars collection with two must-have characters: Han Solo and R2D2.

Han Solo, the famous intergalactic pilot, is portrayed with the utmost possible faithfulness. The sculpture includes all the details that make the favorite hero of fans of this movie saga so unmistakable: his confident swagger, his sarcastic expression and the painstaking reproduction of his signature clothing and weapons. This recreation is a faithful replica of the original character immortalized by the actor Harrison Ford.

Meanwhile, R2D2, one of the best-loved members of the Star Wars cast of characters, together with his inseparable companion C-3PO, is recreated in great detail and decorated in his signature colors with touches of metallic luster.

Two new creations entirely handcrafted in porcelain that capture the essence of these iconic space heroes.

Mickey TOTAL BLACK

Disney
MICKEY MOUSE

Mickey Total Black affords an unexpected vision of one of the most significant characters in popular culture. Mickey Mouse, the world's most famous mouse, was the first and best known of the many creations in the Disney universe. Ever since, he has become a pop icon, one of the most recognizable and best-loved figures by the general public.

In this version, Mickey is faithfully depicted but with a bold aesthetic treatment. It plays with the effects produced by the combination of the matte black color of the head, trousers and faceted base with the glazed finish of the ears and body. The note of color comes in the delicate white porcelain flower, modeled by hand, petal by petal, on Mickey's chest. This little detail makes Mickey even more charming and adds a touch of humor and sophistication.

THYSSEN-BORNEMISZA COLLECTION

MUSEO NACIONAL

YOUNG KNIGHT IN A LANDSCAPE

We are presenting a collection of highly disparate porcelain pieces that nevertheless share the common feature of having been designed in collaboration with the Thyssen-Bornemisza National Museum. One of Spain's foremost art museums, it boasts one of the greatest collections of old masters of Western painting, with major works by Titian, Caravaggio, Rubens, Rembrandt, Monet, Degas, Cézanne, Van Gogh, Picasso, and Kandinsky, among a host of many others artists.

Our collection includes pieces inspired by works from the museum: "Young Knight in a Landscape", 1505, by Carpaccio, and "Simultaneous Dresses", 1925, by Sonia Delaunay.

Carpaccio Ermine and crane chopstick set portrays two of the animals that appear in "Young Knight in a Landscape". This painting by the Renaissance master from the Venetian school depicts a knight in armor posing in the middle of a richly decorated scene which includes another knight, buildings, plants and numerous animals, all represented with great detail and refinement. Two of these animals served as inspiration for our pieces: an ermine and a crane with elegant and stylized lines. The forms of the two animals act as chopstick rests in the fusion between aesthetics and functionality which is the signature trait of these two creations.

Woman I, Woman II and Woman III are three pieces inspired by Sonia Delaunay's "Simultaneous Dresses". In this painting, the Paris-based Ukrainian-born artist, one of the pioneers of abstract art and the early twentieth-century avant-gardes, gives expression to another of her many facets: a fashion designer. More specifically, one of the three dresses that appear in the painting was designed for the Hollywood star Gloria Swanson.

The three pieces are transformed into functional porcelain objects: bottles with their respective glasses that, at once, preserve the forms of the dresses in which they are inspired and the spirit of Cubism and the avant-garde that underpinned the original work. The intense colors and the pure and geometric forms complete the appeal of creations in which handcrafted porcelain meets the most innovative art.

CHINESE ZODIAC

Baby Snake and Baby Dragon belong to the Baby Animals collection, a charming and fun version of the twelve signs of the Chinese zodiac. The animals, which have the power to shape the character and even the fate of people born under their influence, are portrayed from a more child-like perspective. These depictions bring us closer to the age-old tradition of Chinese culture, with all its mystery and fascination, in a highly personal way.

These creations are notable for their expressive faces and the intensity of their gazes. White was chosen for the entire decoration, with the sole exception of the eyes, which are painted a deep black color to heighten their expressiveness.

Another interesting feature is that the pieces alternate areas of glazed and matte scales, an effect achieved by eliminating the glaze with a small soft sponge. This application of a very gestural technique with tiny strokes means that each creation has a uniquely special finish.

In China, people born under the sign of the Dragon (1976, 1988, 2000, 2012, 2024) are called dragon babies and are believed to be imaginative, kind, vital, and energetic. Meanwhile, people born under the sign of the Snake (1977, 1989, 2001, 2013, 2025) are believed to be very intuitive, intelligent, materialistic, courageous, and communicative.

CHINESE ZODIAC

According to the Chinese zodiac, the Snake is the animal that will rule over 2025. For this age-old tradition, the sign symbolizes wisdom, intuition and charm. From a spiritual viewpoint, the snake represents transformation and rebirth.

This version, handcrafted in porcelain, boasts a conceptual design with very simple lines combined with a decoration in deep red tones and touches of golden luster.

The snake is a fearsome yet also captivating creature. In almost all cultures, its sinuous and flexible body represents mystery, the occult and the sacred.

In this creation, the emphatic volume of the sculpture captures the strength and power of the snake.

In the Chinese zodiac, The Snake is a representation full of symbolism and profound meaning. Those born under its sign are believed to possess a sharp mind and the capacity to resolve problems strategically. They are also believed to be charming and seductive, able to influence others with their eloquence and persuasive powers. It symbolizes the idea of letting go and renovation, essential for personal growth and spiritual evolution. The snake in the Chinese zodiac is a rich and multifaceted, mysterious and fascinating sign that embraces a wide range of meanings.
